Chapter One: The Vow That Will Change It All

I slowly walked down the streets of the Negaverse thinking of a new way to get rid of sailor moon. As I thought long and hard; I soon stopped dead in my tracks seeing something lurking throughout the shadows.

Who's there? I said moving away from the shadow that seems to be moving towards me at great pace. Turning around to run, I soon land face first into the someone's chest.

It's me, the voice said grabbing me by the shoulders and moving me back so that he can be seen in the light. I look at him carefully realizing its Malichite or so I thought. His hair was black as night and his face was pale as day. He looked very tired and sweaty and he kept coughing as if he was sick.

Oh Malichite What's wrong? I said as tears started to form in my eyes.

Nothing my pet Its just that I need to tell you something

Before he could tell me the news; he soon fell to his knees in pain.

 I screamed grabbing him by the arm so that he wont hurt himself.

Zoisite Get away from me!

His eyes flashed constantly as he slowly started to glow. With a flash of light I soon found myself being knocked back.

 I yelled struggling to my feet.

I stood there watching in terror as his body started to turn pure green.

 He said kneeling over and whispering something else.

Before I go my love. I must tell you that my love for you will never die I will live on in the eternal vow of love to you

I was shocked but I couldn't stop the tears from falling down my face.

Malichite Don't leave me I need you I screamed in a heartbreaking voice; running towards him getting knocked back again because of an invisible force field he had put up after my first attempt.

Malichite give me your hand! I cried.

But he didn't respond; the only thing he said was I Made The Vow Of That's was all.

I soon fell to my knees as I heard him let out a scream followed by my name.

 He screamed as a burst of light lit up and blinded me.

As the light got brighter I couldn't feel him close to me anymore. I had lost all hope in him surviving and passed out as the light dimmed.

I woke up in the Negaverse hospital with a headache.

_ I cried out looking around at my surroundings.
> It's okay Zoi you just had a bad dream, Jadeite said standing up and walking over to me.<o:p><o:p>_

Jadeite Where is Malichite

I don't know

I looked around seeing Nephlite sitting in a chair asleep; Edymion had just walked in he had a tray of food in his hands.

Edymion Have you seen Malichite

Why no I haven't Zoi But im sure he will popup sooner or later

As Edymion sat the food on my lap; I realized that I would never see Malichite again. Tears fell from my eyes onto my half-cooked eggs, as I knew that my life would never be the same again.

Chapter Two: Is it possible to move on?

It's been a week since the death of Malichite; the doctor, Mrs. Smith, had just come in and was filling out release forms.

Well Mr. Zoisite you seem to be okay She said checking my data chart and finishing up the forms.

I slowly sat up in the bed and looked at her with eyes that she thought was of joy but were really the eyes of my pain.

Where will I go? I muffled remembering that I hadn't said a word in 8 days.

Well luckily you had your keys on you. So you can go back to your apartment I guess

Slowly I got out of the bed staggering a little because my legs didn't need to function for almost a week.

Now after you get situated just go downstairs to the front office and pick up your prescription

_Soon, she turned around and walked out of the room leaving me alone. As I sat there I started to think why my friends abandoned me after the first three days in the hospital._

Don't tell me that yaw life is better then mine, I mumbled standing up and moving over to the window.

After taking a glimpse outside; I started to think about the uniform that I had been in for over a millennium.

I should go shopping I thought grabbing my flowers Nephlite had brought me and heading out of the room, down the corridor, and into the elevator.

It didn't take that long for me to reach the lobby. Looking around I knew that this was the Negaverse Hospital. Monsters and other unusual creatures that I haven't seen before roamed around seeking help.

Should I get the medicine or not I thought moving towards the exit.

I shouldn't I mean what do I need medicine for anyway

Proceeding towards the exit I am spotted be Mrs. Smith.

_ She yelled moving over to me_

Hello again ma'am I said trying not to draw attention on the fact that I disobeyed her orders on getting the medicine.

Did you get the medicine?

I nodded knowing I didn't and then ended her conversation off with Don't worry I'll be fine

_Make sure you have it cause without _

I turned around and walked out. I didn't want to hear what she had to say and plus I wasn't in the mood to smile and say . All I wanted to do was go home.

I arrived at my apartment around 2:15 at night. I was tired and weak; all I wanted to do was go to sleep. I slowly pulled out my keys I only had two keys; one for my apartment and one for my room. Malichite and me lived in the same apartment but we both had our privacy. After getting the door open I proceeded straight towards my destination; only to find out that it was going to be post-poned.

Eternal Vow Of Love

Chapter Three: Moving over my trails of tears

Stepping into my apartment I found some rosesâ€¦ Black Roses sitting on my coffee table. My eyes adjusted quickly to the dark room as I closed the door behind myself. Without cutting on any lights I sat down on the sofa and looked at the roses. Soon after I sat down I noticed a small card that was attached to the roses so I reached out to grab the card off of the roses. **

The card read as followed:

"I made the vow of love to you Zoisite"

Shocked as hell I threw the card across the room and cried. Was I losing my mind? Is Malichite still alive? Was this some kind of a joke? I sat on the sofa with my chin resting on my knees and wrapped my hands around them and cried myself to sleep trying to believe Malichite was still out there.

The next morning I found myself in my bed wearing Malachite's best shirt. I was startled when I found out that I had made it to my room, to my clothes off, and managed to get in the bed with malachite's best shirt on my body. I didn't say anything I quickly assumed that Malichite was home. I impatiently pulled the silk covers off my body and ran out the room and down the steps towards the living room.

"Malichite? Honey are you in here" I said with a very happy tone in my voice.

But I didn't get an answer instead I got a response from the clock which went" bong". I frowned not even bothering to check the kitchen and the dinning room. Depression quickly took over my body as I fell to my knees at the steps that would take you into the living room. But I fought it this time I reached over to Malichite's suitcase that he always took to work. Then grabbing only a sheet of paper and a pen that had the initials "Mali" on it I soon started to put my depression and guilt onto paper. I wrote fast and quick, seeing to it that I am a writer, and looked at my progress. The title was called "love recall" and it read as followed:

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Love Recall

Nothing could have made my heart break more than when you said good-bye
> No other person on earth could make me cry the tears I've cried
 I look for you everywhere and to no avail, you're not there
> I wish I could hold you now - you'll never know how deeply I cared
 It's not right to love someone as much as I love you
> I need the strength to go on but it's no use
 When I cry these tears they go straight out to your heart
> I wish you would come back to these arms - in my mind we'll never be apart
 Now you're gone and my whole world's come tumbling down

> When I lie in bed at night in my heart your voice is the only sound
 The love I have for you runs through my veins
> I can see nothing but you - your presence has driven me insane
 But I don't blame you when it was all my fault
> I thought I could get over you, but inside my body your image is caught
 Please come back to me - you're the only one I'll ever want in my life
> And being without your love burns deep - it cuts like a knife
 I'll remember you as I cry for all my sins
> I'll beg God to bring you back when I recall what has been
 So don't forget I love you as your ghost walks through my soul
> Until your love comes back to me - I'll forever in this heart have a hole

~Zoi~

The poem had hit me right in the heart. Soon I started to feel emotions take over my body; so I balled up the poem and threw it in away. I looked around the house.

"This is starting to get to me" I thought as I got up and headed to my room to get dressed and go out to find something to make me forget about mali. After getting back to my room I raided my closet for something to wear; all I found was ten more uniforms and 3 disguises for work.

"Damn! I need to get more outfits that don't concern with my job"

I picked up some blue jeans and an ornage sweater with some non-name brand shoes and headed downstairs. Upon getting downstairs, I gasped. The poem I wrote was sitting on the table next to the roses that had the card I read last night in it.

"Noâ€¦ It can't be!" I screamed out in my mind.

Turning around I grabbed my keys and headed out of the door not shutting it behind me.
